

Teaching & Learning Accessibility Workshop: Side Chat Dialogue

Hi everyone,

I am just providing a copy of the side chat so that you have access to all of the suggestions and resources that were provided. If you have any further inquiries, please free to contact me. Finally, thanks for your participation and the great dialogue. I hope it was useful to you moving forward. I can certainly say that the session has allowed us here at CITL and the Blundon Centre to learn more about student and instructor (faculty) needs!

Keith

Also, could look to Julie's presentation on Low Tech Solutions for Remote Teaching and Learning from Jonathan Kavanagh to Keith Power (privately): 10:08 AM

I can talk a bit about low bandwidth stuff as well

from Erin Fraser to Everyone: 10:08 AM

This is Erin F from Grenfell - I understand that CITL is administering a survey to MUN students asking about their technological capabilities and some other factors about their home learning environment. Will those results be made available? If so, when? Will you be making recommendations to instructors based on those findings?

Got it. Thanks.

from Stacey Alexander to Everyone: 10:15 AM

Erin F, thank you for your question. We can get back to you about this question, unless one of our presenters knows more about the survey.

from Erin Fraser to Everyone: 10:16 AM

Thanks, I would appreciate that.

from Stacey Alexander to Everyone: 10:16 AM

Perfect, thank you for your email address!

from catherine shortall to Everyone: 10:20 AM

Curious....Can you "record conversation lessons" and send as an attachment etc.?

from Stacey Alexander to Everyone: 10:20 AM

Catherine, you can record Online Rooms sessions/conversations, and provide them to students later on.

from Melanie Racette-Campbell to Everyone: 10:21 AM

Can the library send her a scan of the book? I had an international student last term who had returned home and needed a library book, and the library was able to help him.

from Stacey Alexander to Everyone: 10:21 AM

Melanie that is a wonderful solution! Perhaps the Library could help.

from Victoria Skanes to Everyone: 10:22 AM

We'll check with them on that for sure!

from cmsmeato to Everyone: 10:23 AM

Western credit cards may not be able to be used in Iran due to sanctions

from Stacey Alexander to Everyone: 10:24 AM

I've just shared the copyright link at the Library at Memorial University.

from Stacey Alexander to Everyone: 10:25 AM

cmsmeato yes you're right about that. This is a challenging case for sure.

from Stacey Alexander to Everyone: 10:28 AM

Memorial University's IT department is available at <https://www.mun.ca/cio/support/>

from cmsmeato to Everyone: 10:34 AM

that is great news (re: Webex)

from Melanie Racette-Campbell to Everyone: 10:34 AM

Do the captioning and transcript services work for other languages? Or are there supports for instructors for whom they don't work? I'm teaching Latin and ancient Greek in the fall and I have some doubts!

from catherine shortall to Keith Power (privately): 10:35 AM

Can I jump in

from Keith Power to catherine shortall (privately): 10:36 AM

Yes

from Melanie Racette-Campbell to Everyone: 10:36 AM

You are a super star!

from Victoria Skanes to Everyone: 10:44 AM

Agree, Bob!! Everyone has been incredibly helpful!

from catherine shortall to Everyone: 10:44 AM

Bob, i think the remote exams issues is a priority and I also I think there is a need for a larger conversation around assessment in general

from Stacey Alexander to Everyone: 10:45 AM

Something CITL Course Development staff have been doing for the past few months now is helping instructors figure out how to approach final assessments in courses, that can accommodate the pandemic restriction now in place.

from Stacey Alexander to Everyone: 10:46 AM

We've been producing resources/articles on our Instructional Resources site, which I've linked above.

A silver lining to Covid. Who would have thought? But I agree, it's a great opportunity, in terms of teaching and learning, to assess what we do, and how we do it.
